Monica Loughman's story is the enchanting tale of a young girl leaving her family in Ireland to train in a strict Russian school with dreams of becoming the next top ballerina. While many young ballerinas' dreams end in ribbons, Loughman became Ireland's success story and was the first Western European invited to join the distinguished Russian Tchaikovsky Perm State Ballet Company. She speaks about the difference between training in London and Russia and how Russian ballet differs from English ballet.

This is Monica Loughman's story about a 14-year-old girl leaving her family in Dublin to train in a strict Russian ballet school. Loughman became Ireland's success story and was the first Western European to join the distinguished Perm State Theatre of Opera and Ballet.

Monica Loughman ' s story is the enchanting tale of a 14-year-old girl leaving the comforts of home to train in a strict and austere Russian ballet school. She brought her dreams of becoming a professional ballerina with her. While many young ballerinas ' aspirations are unfulfilled, Loughman became a dancing sensation and was the first Western European to join Russia's distinguished Perm State Theatre of Opera and Ballet. Not just for ballet lovers, this gripping tale also details the endurance and stamina needed to survive in post Soviet-Union Russia. Monica vividly evokes the closed and foreign world of ballet with natural assurance. Her book also reveals the brutality and suffering that often lies behind ballet's fairytale facade. Ballerina is the story of a young girl ' s single-minded determination to succeed against the odds. It is a truly engrossing story.

From the acclaimed author of This Side of Brightness, the epic life and times of Rudolf Nureyev, reimagined in a dazzlingly inventive masterpiece—published to coincide with the tenth anniversary of Nureyev’s death A Russian peasant who became an international legend, a Cold War exile who inspired millions, an artist whose name stood for genius, sex, and excess—the magnificence of Rudolf Nureyev’s life and work are known, but now Colum McCann, in his most daring novel yet, reinvents this erotically charged figure through the light he cast on those who knew him. Taking his inspiration from the biographical facts, McCann tells the story through a chorus of voices: there is Anna Vasileva, Rudi’s first ballet teacher, who rescues her protégé from the stunted life of his town; Yulia, whose sexual and artistic ambitions are thwarted by her Soviet-sanctioned marriage; and Victor, the Venezuelan hustler, who reveals the lurid underside of the gay celebrity set. Spanning four decades and many worlds, from the horrors of Stalingrad to the wild abandon of New York in the eighties, Dancer is peopled by a large cast of characters, obscure and famous: doormen and shoemakers, Margot Fonteyn and John Lennon. And at the heart of the spectacle stands the artist himself, willful, lustful, and driven by a never-to-be-met need for perfection. In ecstatic prose, McCann evokes the distinct consciousness of the man and the glittering reflection of the myth. The result is a monumental story of love, art, and exile.

This is the biography of Joan Denise Moriarty, the Irish ballerina who founded the first professional ballet company in the country. She choreographed over a hundred original works, drawing on themes from Irish mythology and legend, fusing traditional dance forms with ballet.

For every young dancer who finds that her body is not perfect . . . the story puts physical defects into perspective and offers something to laugh about at the same time.--Booklist. Full color.

Murder in the Missions is the true story of two Irish priests whose lives were forever changed when they moved to an island devastated by corruption and greed. Frs Des Hartford and Rufus Halley left Ireland in the 1960s to work in dialogue and conflict resolution between Muslim and Christian communities in the Philippines, a country which was rapidly descending into civil war. For many years the priests lived peacefully as Christians in a Muslim-dominated region on the island of Mindanao, their mission not to convert but rather to serve the local people. But despite their commitment to peace and non-violence, both were targeted by Muslim insurgents. Fr Hartford was kidnapped by the Moro National Liberation Front and used as a bargaining tool in their negotiations with the Philippine government. Fr Halley was murdered by Islamic extremists. Recreated from interviews, diaries, letters and testimony, Murder in the Missions tells their story.
