THE SUN RISING. by John Donne
BUSY old fool, unruly Sun, Why dost thou thus,
Through windows, and
through curtains,
call on us ?
Must to thy motions
lovers' seasons run ?
Saucy pedantic wretch,
go chide
Late school-boys
and sour prentices,
Go tell court-huntsmen
that the king will ride, Call country ants
to harvest offices ;

Donne. The Sun Rising. - Anniina Jokinen

The Sun Rising Summary Like all of us in the morning, John Donne starts out angry at the sun. He feels way too good to be bothered by its shine and tells it to get lost and go bother other, lesser people. He tells the sun that love isn't some slave to the sun's movements or the changing of the seasons, so shove off, thank you very much.
